Benefit: Thanks to its functional design, IMPERIUM can be installed among the cushions of the seat; moreover it can be also hung on the wall when not in use thanks to a wall bracket (optional feature). This wireless hand control has 3 buttons, 2 tilting buttons for actuators, and one to select the seats; the possibility of choosing between the different control boxes allows both the partial sequential movement or the independent movement of the components. It also features a built-in rechargeable battery (via a USB type C connector), which replaces the now obsolete battery-operated versions. The structure is in zamak, decorated by a bronze colored finishing and the soft-touch allows a strong and easy grasp. The color of the cover and of the lower part are customizable in order to satisfy all the customers' requests.
